Fix the quote drop first

- Only 368 of 5,000 supplied leads activated (7.36%).
- Needs assessed: 1,974. Quote accepted: 861. That transition retains only 43.6%.
- Historical mean activation time: 17.62 days.
- Blended acquisition cost: INR 15,053 per activation.
- Focus: explain the bundle, show every fee, finish documents and make status visible.

Start with professional offices

- 1,247 leads; 138 activations; 11.07% historical activation.
- Median activated bundle: INR 6,575/month.
- Clinics, CA firms and coaching centres need dependable internet, email and basic security.
- Start with a narrow, assisted pilot; expand after measuring completion and service delivery.
- Manufacturers have higher historical conversion but fewer observations and more complex delivery.

A transparent, editable starter bundle

- Example: Tier-1 clinic, five staff, one site; internet plus business email.
- Biz Fibre 100: 1 x INR 999/month. Cloud Email: 5 x INR 125/month.
- Monthly total: INR 1,624. Setup: INR 0. First month: INR 1,624.
- Each service has a 12-month minimum contract. Taxes are excluded.
- Owner changes quantities and add-ons; backend rechecks eligibility, dependencies and prices.

One journey, with reviewed decisions

- Hindi/English text or reviewed voice; follow-up chat retains owner-reviewed answers.
- Review structured needs, edit the catalogue bundle and inspect the estimate.
- Sign in, consent to document extraction and review the masked fields.
- Backend compares four documents with mock registries and checks consistency/dates.
- Accept the demo terms, then follow the saved simulated order tracker.

Fast processing must preserve trust

- Separate consents for drafting, browser speech, document checks and partner follow-up.
- Images never saved; raw extracted fields expire after 30 minutes or order submission.
- Masked summaries, consent, estimates and orders expire after 24 hours.
- Ownership, password changes, session revocation and staff disabling protect account access.
- Review can confirm legibility only after original inspection. Hard failures still block checkout.

Partners handle the exceptions

- Owner requests help and separately consents to sharing a synthetic contact and summary.
- Reviewer assigns a partner. Partners see only their assigned, consented tasks.
- Explainable help priority highlights document issues and approaching record expiry.
- Partner records resolution; owner resumes the same journey and can withdraw consent.
- Acquisition heuristic rejected: held-out top-fifth activation 7.00% vs 7.08% overall.

No predictive uplift claim. Current help priority is an operational ranking, not conversion probability. · 7/10

Roll out through measured gates

- Now: synthetic data, controlled regression checks, explicit simulated service stages.
- Gate 1: validate live extraction and voice; rehearse recovery, access and retention.
- Gate 2: managed identity, encrypted hosting, provider availability and operational review.
- Then: invited professional-office pilot with partner support and a measured baseline.
- WhatsApp guided consent, corrections and estimates are built; live sending stays disabled.

Five proposed targets, not claimed results

- Lead-to-activation: historical 7.36%; proposed comparable-cohort target 10%.
- Mean lead-to-activation: 17.62 days; proposed target at most 12 days.
- Blended acquisition cost: INR 15,053; proposed target at most INR 12,000.
- Six-month churn: 15.22%; proposed target at most 12%. Status chases: about 3 to at most 1.
- At fixed acquisition spend only, 7.36% to 10% conversion implies about INR 11,079 CAC.

Scenario arithmetic, not measured savings. Segment pilots need their own comparable baseline; churn needs six months. · 9/10

Evidence, limits and the next decision

- Backend and browser regression evidence accompanies the working prototype.
- Cross-checks cover access boundaries, duplicate submission, stale review, consent and recovery.
- Database migration guards, readiness, bounded provider work and safe local restore are implemented.
- Remaining gates: live extraction/voice quality, Docker runtime, hosted CI and real integrations.
- Next decision: approve an invited synthetic-data rehearsal, then evaluate readiness for a limited pilot.
